

Monmouthshire offers excellent fishing opportunities, with renowned rivers and several fisheries catering to both coarse and fly fishing enthusiasts

The Usk and Wye rivers are among the best salmon rivers in the UK, particularly noted for their scenic beauty within the Brecon Beacons National Park and the Wye Valley Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. The salmon run on the Usk typically peaks from May to June, while the Wye is known for its overall salmon catch.

Both rivers also provide first-class trout fishing, with various stretches available for booking through local services.

Lower Pen-y-Clawdd Farm Fishery:

This fishery is set in 96 acres of beautiful countryside and offers day ticket fishing year-round. It features three pools, each with unique characteristics, ensuring a pleasant fishing experience for both pleasure and match anglers.

Monnow Valley Fishery:

Situated in Monmouth, this fishery spans one mile of the River Monnow and offers both coarse and fly fishing. It is particularly known for trout fishing, especially during the may fly hatches in late spring.

Redhill Fishery:

This coarse fishery near Monmouth provides excellent sport for both pleasure and match anglers. It is well-maintained and offers a natural environment for fishing.

Types of Fishing Available

- Coarse Fishing: Available at various lakes and fisheries, suitable for both novice and experienced anglers.
- Fly Fishing: Particularly popular on the Monnow River, known for its trout and grayling.

Monmouthshire is a fantastic destination for fishing enthusiasts, offering a variety of locations and types of fishing experiences. Whether you prefer the tranquility of river fishing or the convenience of well-stocked lakes, you will find plenty of options to enjoy your time on the water.